

Richard C. Miller

Project Engineer

EDUCATION

Drexel University - Philadelphia, PA
Bachelor of Science - Architectural Engineering
Bachelor of Science - Civil Engineering

CERTIFICATION

Professional Engineer - New Jersey

EXPERIENCE

Richard began working as a Project Engineer at Harrison-Hamnett, P.C. in 1997. He is responsible for Structural Engineering Projects from conception and design development through construction and project completion. He has worked on a wide range of projects including new and renovated educational, commercial, residential and industrial facilities.

Additionally, Richard conducts structural investigations and surveys for reports on structural conditions preparation and works on bid packages and field inspections.